Lac La Biche Tax Strike Still Lingers

Decision of Lac la Biche ratepayers to withhold payment of school requisitions until adjustment of their grievances was discussed in legislature recently.

Speaker was Harry Lobay (SC-Beaver River), in whose constituency the village is located.

He said amendments to the Alberta Assessment Act to come before the legislature soon would make it necessary for holders of property fringing the village to pay greater taxes toward school support.

This was the basis of the "tax strike."

Village ratepayers who pay $12,000 toward school operation and send 140 students to classes feel small landholders from around the town should pay a greater share of education costs.

At present they pay only $1,800 toward school expenses but supply 200 students.

It was gratifying to know a partial solution had been reached, Mr. Lobay said. He hoped new legislation would remove other causes of dissatisfaction.

GRASSLAND NEWS

GRASSLAND. — Mr. Joseph B. Dostal, pioneer resident of Grassland, passed away at his home at Willow Flat on Feb. 21. Mr. Dostal, a U.S. veteran of the First World War, had resided at Grassland since 1926, until a short time ago. He is survived by a sister in the U.S.

Mrs. Annie Chamczuk, sister of Miss Marg Semeniuk, is the proud mother of a baby boy.

Mrs. Mike Dietel has been in hospital at Lac la Biche.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Putnam and family have returned from the coast. In the fall they followed the birds to Victoria, but are glad to be back in sunny Alberta. Gordon says the bright lights of Grassland look pretty good after the power shortage in B.C. They were unfortunate in visiting that province during the worst winter in living memory.

A surprise party was held at the home of Miss Jennie Luchka, to celebrate the latter's birthday. Among others, the three teachers from Grassland school were present.

Pioneer Visitors Return Home

PLAMONDON. — Mr. and Mrs. Isidore Plamondon and son, our pioneer visitors, have returned home, after having spent three very short weeks visiting their mother, brothers, sisters, relatives and friends in the old place which means so much to them. Many precious acquaintances were renewed.

It was indeed an indescribable joy for the aged mother, Mrs. Philip Plamondon, to welcome her eldest son after 25 years' absence. The second day after their arrival was spent with her, as they did not wish to give her a shock of surprise. For, as announced previously, they came as a surprise.

The whole family reunited at their mother's home and the light beaming in all their eyes showed the infinite joy that was in their hearts.

Many enjoyable evenings were spent at the homes of each of the family. On Feb. 13, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Plamondon, a brother, which was Mr. Isidore's homestead in early years ,was held the principal gathering. Not one of the members of the family were missing of those who were available. Two of the family are still in Michigan. Their bridesmaid and best man who witnessed their wedding 42 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Gauthier, were also present. Mrs. Gauthier is Mrs. Isidore's sister. Supper was served to over 50 guests, and an enjoyable time was had by all.

The farewell party was held at the home of Mrs. Octave Chevigny,, sister of the visitors. Again the whole family, which means eight brothers and two sisters and their mother were reunited, but this time it was to say goodbye—45 were present. A bouquet of roses and carnations were presented, and each had their little word of thanks to the visitors in appreciation of their visit.

Mr. Isidore then addressed the gathering with deep emotion, thanking them all for what he called the best time he had ever had. He said he hoped the boys would all stick to their farms, which he had found so prosperous. "I will not be 25 years again before returning, but we will be back in two years."

Mrs. Isidore also spoke, clasping to her breast the lovely bouquet which held in its centre the hearts of all the dear ones. "We are taking home with us precious souvenirs," she said, "and both of us shall have much to talk about and to relate to our family. And we hope we shall be reunited again before very long."

The sorrow of parting was eloquent, but let us just say " 'Til we meet again."

LET'S INSIST ON THIS

There are one or two things about the proposal to export natural gas that every wide-awake Albertan should insist upon.

Before any gas is exported, we should be assured that adequate supplies, enough to last for fifty years or more, are assured to people of this province.

And secondly we should see to it that profits made by the Government in exporting gas to other areas be used to subsidize laying of pipe lines to towns and villages now without gas.

The Boards of Trade of Daysland and Killam and the Chamber of Commerce at Hardisty have been trying to find out why a gas line can't be 20 miles south from the Wainwright line to the Hardisty line. All sorts of reasons—shortage of pipe, long distances, small population, etc., are advanced, for not extending gas service to towns east of Camrose. Still talk goes on about piping gas to Vancouver, Seattle, Winnipeg and other far-distant points.

Let's insist that Alberta's own people get gas service along with any extension to other parts.

In Search Of A Typical Canadian

By H. J. THOMPSON

(The characters in this sketch are not fictional, but similarity in names or places to persons living or dead are purely co-incidental).

Paul is a farmer's son, not yet of voting age, mentally bright with an unusually retentive memory. A propensity for story telling, though his treatment of the subject matter of an anecdote may lack descriptive camouflage of a delicate noun, that is all because an unfinished public school education fails in the choice or use of the polished dictionary word.

Called out of school, to work on the farm, at an early age Paul's natural ability has overcome this disadvantage. Highly educated, he would be called a brilliant conversationalist.

Paul's aptitude for sport, baseball and hockey is in no way hampered by restriction in the matter of schooling. Though his ancestors once trod the plains of the Ukraine, his assimilation of Canadian ideals of fair play and true sportsmanship, hard playing to win but being a good loser. when his team doesn't win, is not confined to sport but applied to everyday living.

In this young man, we have a good Canadian, with a jest for living, who laughs at the dumps in hockey and works as he plays, with energy, devotion and concentration. A good neighbor, friendly, sympathetic to your losses, jovial and glad for your successes, envies no man. Respects all who deserve respect. Loyal to his team mates, interested in his district's social and economic welfare. Proud of his country, content with the small part destiny allows as his share in its progress.

To the Pauls, Alex and Franks of many districts contributing their best in the field of sport and everyday living, I give this sketch as first recognition of merit. The place good sportsmanship and sport has in better interdistrict relations, where people meet on common ground, without a thought for the distractions of racial and sectional differences. For in sport only of all social activities, the competative achievements of the players are appreciaed by the fans, whether winners or good loosers, free from all attachments to the trivial differences, marked in other ordinary occupations, thus delaying the final achievement of a united typical Canadian citizenry.

THIS WEEK IN BRITAIN

COTTAGE HOME FOR BABY PRINCE

Although Princess Elizabeth's baby doesn't know it yet, he has a beautiful home all ready furnished just for him. It is a 10-foot high Tudor cottage, built by three firemen who during the war gave up their spare time to making toys for wartime nurseries.

The cottage has two doors large enough for small children. On the ground floor is a sitting room furnished in period style. A small staircase leads to a bedroom with dormer windows and another goes down to a workroom fitted with a carpenter's bench, complete with miniature tools.

All the furniture is on the same small scale and the ex-firemen worked overtime for several weeks to finish the cottage for the baby's birth.

No housing problem for Britain's new prince—instead he can set up house on his own before he is 10 years old!

HEALTH SCHEME FOR BRITAIN'S MINERS

Britain is to build 217 pit medical centres in the next four years —the aim is not only to organize an on-the-spot accident service, but also to tackle the wider problems of miners' ailments.

Nine of the planned centres are already open, 35 more are being built. Medical officers will supervise the medical treatment centres, the work of colliery nurses, the development of first-aid organizations underground, as well as industrial diseases and welfare problems.

The scheme is a miniature plan for miners within Britain's National Health Service.

Said Mr. Norman Mattrass, Northern Divisional Labor Officer of the National Coal Board: "The plan is to give the miners an unrivalled medical service."

TWO GOOD OLD ENGLISH RECIPES

These two recipes may be of interest to housewives in Canada. The recipe Trifle is, of course, not possible for housewives in Britain under present rationing conditions.

BEEFSTEAK AND KIDNEY PUDDING

1-lb. beefsteak
¼ lb. sheep's or ox kidney
¼ pint water
½ lb. suet pastry
1 tablespoon flour
salt and pepper

Method:

Line a deep bowl, well greased, with suet paste rolled 1-3 inch thick. Put the flour, with salt and pepper, on a plate, cut the meat and kidney into cubes, roll them in the seasoned flour. Place in the bowl and pour the water over. Wet the edge of the pastry lining, and cover with a round piece of pastry, thoroughly seal the edges, cover with buttered paper, and steam three hours. Turn the pudding out onto a hot dish, or it may be served in the bowl with a table napkin folded around. When serving, dilute the gravy with hot water.

SUET PASTRY

½ lb. flour
¼ lb. suet
¼ teaspoonful salt
½ teaspoonful baking powder cold water

Method:

Shred the suet finely, add to the flour with the baking powder and salt, and enough cold water to make into a paste, which must not be too stiff. This may be boiled for 1½ hours in a cloth or mould and served with treacle, jam, etc., or rolled out and used for meat and fruit puddings, roly-polies, etc.

Local Carnival Real Success

LEGAL.—The carnival held in Legal this past week, again proves how the people of the district support a worth while cause. It is reported that over $3600 was raised. Jackie Gigueie was the successful queen, having sold the largest number of tickets.

On and after Thursday, March 3, 1949, Provincial Government Amusement Tax has to be paid on all movie admissions and all children have to be paid for according to the Theatres Act. This tax should be paid by the patron. In appreciation of your patronage however, in order not to increase the cost of your entertainment we have reduced the price of admission. Now the price for adults is 37c plus 3c tax and for children 23c plus 2c tax. However, when there is an afternoon show the children's price is still only 15c but no children's tickets will be sold in the evening.

Hard Times Vividly Portrayed

HYLO.—If hard times were as bad as portrayed by our prize winners at the Hard Times dance held last Friday, brother, we don't want 'em! You can have them.

Mrs. Lena Marchesi and Mrs. Myrtle Ouchar tied for ladies' prize. Mr. George Michetti won the prize for men. Mr. S. Grandinetti, Mr. Smith and Mr. C. Meardi were judges.

Hot dog lunches were served and Johnny Tichonuk had his share. Where do you put them all? Raffle tickets were sold by some of the senior girls who did a good job of it. Salesgirls were Miss Margaret Tichonuk, Severina Marchesi, Donnie Grandinetti, Norma Rayment. The pyrex coffee percolator was won by Mrs. Eva Lozinski

We were very glad to see a crowd of young people from Lac la Biche, Egg Lake and Venice. They should do that more often. Everyone went home contented and hoping dances like this are held more often.

Students' Union News

Crowning the Lac la Biche Queen

LAC LA BICHE. — On Thursday evening at 7:30 the skating rink was a most beautiful scene when Miss Lucille Tatum, charming young lady of the Students' Union, was crowned Queen of the Ice Carnival, by Mr. Hall, superintendent of schools.

It was the fourth annual carnival and the first time the Students' Union had the honor of crowning one of their girls queen.

The girls wore formal gowns, the queen's white trimmed in gold, while her robe was royal red lined with white satin, with a beautiful ermine cape.

The ladies in waiting wore blue gowns with gold capes and crowns and the three girls looked very charming.

The page boys were Leo Beaudry and Johnnie Maccagno. They wore red suits trimmed in white. They did well.

The Students' Union presented Miss Lucille with a Lucite dresser set, and Miss Muriel with a string of pearls, Mr. Hall a necktie, the page boys each a jack-knife.

Everything was carried off very well only the weather which was 12 below with a cold breeze.

Mr. Hall remarked there was beautiful girls in the north as well as the south and we all agree.

The induction was given again in the Memorial hall where a dance followed after where a most enjoyable evening was spent.

Should Alberta Export Natural Gas?

Radio Talk By James Walker Gives Facts
Speaks for Northwest Natural Gas Co. here condensed.

Should we of Alberta export natural gas—or should we not? I believe we should. The Northwest Natural Gas Company plans to build a pipe line to convey natural gas from Alberta to Vancouver, via Spokane and Seattle. But first let me assure the people of Alberta — and this is an assurance from the Company I represent given to the Commission on Natural Gas appointed by the Government of Alberta—that it is only a portion or the surplus gas available that will be exported, and that portion only after providing for present and future requirements of the Province of Alberta. The present and foreseeable future natural gas requirements of the people of Alberta must be assured and have priority over export.

RESERVES ARE AMPLE

I think we all realize that there are vast reserves of natural gas in Alberta, discovered and yet to be discovered. Geologists tell us that the geological conditions in Alberta are quite like those in the large gas producing areas in the United States, where large reserves are being continually added as a result of the search for oil and gas. At the present time there is no incentive in Alberta to explore for, or develop gas fields. Recent discoveries of gas have been made by accident in the search for oil, but, unfortunately, these wells are being capped or abandoned, because there is no market for gas.

What happens to reserves when there is an incentive to find natural gas? According to the American Gas Association, the total gas reserves in the United States in the year 1925 amounted to only 23 trillion cubic feet. The rapid expansion of pipe line transmission systems made a market for natural gas and so encouraged the search for new discoveries that by the end of 1947 the reserves had risen to the astounding figure of approximately 166 trillion cubic feet. The discoveries of natural gas have kept far ahead of consumption as result of the search to supply new markets. In Alberta, it is reported that in the five year period ending 1948 an estimated gas reserve of 2 trillion, 800 billion cubic feet of gas was discovered. Most of these discoveries were made accidentally in the search for oil. The suggestion of Dr. Link, a consulting geologist well known to Albertans, that the reserves in Alberta might prove to be 50 or even 90 trillion cubic feet should, therefore, not be passed too lightly.

RESERVES WILL INCREASE

Dr. Hume, Dominion, Government Chief Geologist, giving evidence recently before the Alberta Gas Commission in Calgary estimated reserves of 4.3 trillion cubic feet. It is a coincidence that Mr. W. E. Spooner, a consulting geologist from the United States who also gave evidence before the Commission, estimated the reserves, including the Pincher Creek field, to be 4 trillion, 900 billion cubic feet, which is closely in line with Dr. Hume's estimate.

When we talk in terms of approximately 5 trillion cubic feet, let us remember that the present consumption of Alberta is less than 40 billion cubic feet per annum. At this rate of consumption there is a supply for about 120 years, even although no new discoveries are made, which is very improbable. Present reserves will be increased many times if a market for gas in created. After all is said and done markets are necessary for any industrial progress.

There are people who question the ability of geologists to measure the amount of gas underground. All sciences have made a tremendous advance in technical knowledge in comparatively recent years and that following the extraordinary development in the gas industry in the United States during the past 20 years, geologists have had sufficient experience to arrive at scientific calculations which are reliable and reasonably accurate. The geologists themselves are not in doubt about this point.

INDUSTRIES ENCOURAGED

The opinion is widely expressed that Alberta should keep its gas and force new industries to locate in the province. As a citizen of Alberta, I am in the front rank of those who would like to see the province become an industrial centre. But up to the present time cheap fuel in the form of gas and coal has not attracted industry here to any marked degree. Fuel is not the factor in cost of production that people generally believe. The overall cost in Alberta, excluding electric energy, is said to be actually less than 1% of the value of the product. Furthermore, it will be obvious that gas exported out of the province, say to Vancouver, would cost much more at the end of the pipe line. Industries, seeking cheap fuel would, therefore, still come to Alberta. Industries complementary to the gas industry would be encouraged to locate in Alberta for the following reasons: It will be necessary to have the natural gas as it comes from the wells stripped of natural gasoline. In addition the propane and butane will be extracted. Both propane and butane, if recovered in large amounts, should found the basis of new industries in the province. The propane can be used as bottled gas in the rural districts of the province. Also, propane and especially butane, would be available for use in chemical plants as raw materials for the manufacture of artificial rubber, nylon and many other products. The Company has already been approached about the possibilities of extracting sulphur from the gas. The sulphur would be used to manufacture sulphuric acid or some other chemical product. The project of the Northwest Natural Gas Company will, therefore, stimulate and not hinder industrial expansion.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS

The project when completed will be one of Alberta's largest industries. It will exceed any other company in capital investment and will rank among the first 12 in payrolls and the first 6 in cost of materials. It is estimated that 1 million dollars will be paid yearly in Alberta in wages and that a further sum of $250,000 yearly will be paid in wages by companies who supply the gas. In addition to payrolls, the governments would benefit substantially from royalty payments and taxes. Payment for rights-of-way are estimated at $500,000.00.

The limitations of time will not permit me on this broadcast to give full details of the company's project, particularly as to the beneficial effects it will have on the economy of the Province of Alberta. These are of extreme importance and I shall discuss them fully in my next radio talk on this same station.

The subject of gas export is of major importance to the people of Alberta and I hope that my listeners tonight, and others, will be sufficiently interested to tune in again next week when I will continue the discussion.

(Mr. Walker's second address will be printed in this space next week). (Advt.)

Serious Accident At Saw Mill

PLAMONDON. — Daniel Plamondon was the victim of a very serious accident at the Bear Lake sawmill, about 18 miles from Plamondon last week. From what news we have received we understand that while the saw was running a board flew back with terrific force, hitting Daniel, who is the sawyer at the mill, with such force that it cut his belt and perforated his clothing, thus causing trauma and internal haemorrhage of the abdomen.

Daniel was unconscious for several hours—and when he could be moved was transferred to Lac la Biche on a bedspring and mattress set up on sleighs and drawn by Clifton Plamondon's jeep to Lac la Biche hospital.

On arrival at the hospital he was rushed to the operating room and was operated on by Drs. Cadzow and Brimsmeade who found him in serious condition, suffering from internal haemorrhage. The operation was long and extensive but from all reports we hear that Daniel is progressing very well. How fortunate that medical aid was abtainable.

WANDERING RIVER NEWS

WANDERING RIVER.—Father Wallat from the Lac la Biche Mission brought a splendid show to Breynat last week and the people of Wandering River not only appreciated the show but would like to have Father Wallat back soon.

Two bulldozers have been busy up here clearing roads for the oil men. This makes a total of four machines. Two of these are going right through to Fort McMurray.

The bridge gang are on their last bridge now at Breynat. After that they will move to Lac la Biche River bridge, although it will be some time yet before they are finished on the Breynat bridge.

You don't have to work in a saw mill or on a railroad to get into an accident and get hurt. Trucking might be hard on your back, but Mr. Martin Sundlie was tacking wall paper on the wall, slipped, fell over a chair and today was on the way to see a nurse figuring on some broken ribs.

Roads in the Wandering River area have had their second snow plowing already this winter, by the oil men.

Mr. Harry Beraska, Mr. John Gordey, Mr. Bill Antoniuk and Mr. Nick Stryski made a return trip to Lac la Biche last week, but ran short of gas by Prairie Creek. Thanks to Serediak's truck for gas and a helping hand. The boys will return the favor some time.

BLUE JAY NEWS

BLUE JAY.—Mr. Frank Dudla, father of a 10-lb. son, Davy Arthur Dudla, brought his wife and son home from St. Catherine's hospital at Lac la Biche. He was very careful in obtaining the best means of transportation available, by hiring Mr. Mike Klimiuk with his car, to bring his wife and son home. Miss Pricinia Klimiuk and Mr. Adashynski also went to Lac la Biche with Mr. Mike Klimiuk.

A church service was held in the Blue Jay school last Sunday.

A recent immigrant from Europe, Mr. Mitchell Wojdylo, now employed at the Lac la Biche Mission, spent the week-end with Mr. Stanely Greziak, another recent immigrant employed by Mr. M. J. Ilnicki.

The Grassland nurse, Miss Williams, visited the Blue Jay school again to innoculate the school children and some adults for the second time.

A surprise birthday party was held for Miss Pricinia Klimuik on Saturday, Feb. 26. A beautiful set of dishes was purchased as a birthday present by all the people present.

A surprising item concerns Mr. Alex Kazur. He is now beginning to dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Sawchuk arrived from Edmonton by bus on Sunday night. Mr. Sawchuk was in a very weakened condition as he had just underwent an operation.

KIKINO NEWS

KIKINO.—The people from outside of Kikino don't have to be afraid to come in here as the roads from both directions are snow plowed and there are quite a few posts here to be sold to any one wanting to bring them. Just pull up to the store and load them into your truck.

Mrs. Archie Ladouceur is recovering from a short illness.

Most of the fellows from around here are busy logging in the bush.

There is to be a dance here on the 28th with proceeds going toward the building of a new hall. Guess that will be the end of dances till lent is over.

"OPERATION XYZ"

LAC LA BICHE.—All the Lac la Biche sea cadets who have been to camp know all about "Operation X." This was made popular by Lieut. R. Goardon, who is now in Oxford, Eng., as Alberta's Rhodes scholar. However, there is an air of mystery surrounding the Lac la Biche corps, as another operation, "Operation XYZ" is in the offing. This may take place some time in July but so far the orders are sealed. This operation will last for a few days and may cover many miles. Only the most proficient of the sea cadets will be even considered as members of "Operation XYZ." That is all that can be told at present. More details from time to time.

GOURIN NEWS

GOURIN.—Mr. and Mrs. Jean Ulliac, Mrs. Rene Legall, and Miss Theresa Ulliac all went by bus to Edmonton on a business trip. Miss Ulliac has remained for medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Isidore Plamondon and son left for their home in the States after having spent a month with brothers, sisters, relatives and friends which they hadn't seen for 25 years.

The school has been closed for over a week due to Miss Dakin being in the Lac la Biche hospital for medical treatment.

Mr. Emile Ulliac crushed his left hand when fixing the windmill. The pump became loose and fell on his hand.

New Station Agent

REDWATER — For years the people of Redwater have been fighting for a station agent and their desire has finally been achieved.

On February 1st the C.N.R. sent out a young man, Len Donaldson, to be the first station agent of Redwater. Len took over the hardest task to come and work for a strange public.

TEEN-TIME COLUMN

HYLO.—Hi Kids!

Gee, hasn't the weather been simply wonderful lately? Summer is just around the corner and before you know it, it will be time to plan picnics.

Say, listen you girls and boys, have you ever thought of organizing a young people's club and getting things to do? You know, it's much easier for a gang to do something than for two or three people to try.

So get together, organize and have yourselves a good time. Enjoy yourselves while you are young. Oops, duty calls and we'll sign off for this time.

Teen-Timers.

A private met a sergeant and asked: "Suppose a private should say to a sergeant, "You've got the manners of a donkey, what would happen? "He'd be sent to the guardhouse," replied the sergeant. "Suppose the private didn't say but just thought it, what would happen?" "Nothing would happen." Then, said the private as he walked away, "I'll leave it at that."

Community Problems To Be Discussed

MORINVILLE. — There will be a general meeting in the Town hall on Sunday night, March 6, to discuss community problems. An exceptionally good speaker will be in attendance. This is your problem, so how about seeing you there?

As a result of the recent retreat, several study clubs have been formed, the main purpose of which is to get people interested in community affairs. For example, every Sunday night, "Preparation for Marriage" courses are given in the rectory. These are under the sponsorship of the C.Y.O.

THE NATION'S BUSINESS

by ottawa observer

A statement issued last week by the Controller of the Treasury covering revenues and expenditures of the government of Canada for the period of nine months closing December 31, 1948, showed a budgetary surplus for those nine months of 609.9 millions. This figure compares with a similar surplus of 646.2 millions accumulated at this same date a year ago.

The comparison shows that if revenues and expenitures for the last three months of this fiscal year remained at exactly the same rate as last year, the actual budgetary surplus at April 1, 1949 would be somewhat smaller than last year's surplus and within accurate range of the actual forecast made by the Minister of Finance in presenting his last budget when a surplus for this year of 549 millions was foreseen.

This is a long way from the billion dollar surplus that was being decried by numerous politically minded economists and observers last October.

As pointed out by the Minister of Finance the present figure of 609.9 millions is strictly of interim nature. It is very likely to be reduced when certain expenditures which are ordinarily not recorded in the government's accounts until right at the end of the year are actually recorded.

For two days immediately preceding the opening of the present session of Parliament and on the day of the opening itself, the Advisory Council, governing body of the National Liberal Federation of Canada, held sessions of its own in Ottawa. This council is made up of 20 Liberal representatives from each province of Canada, from Women's Liberal Associations and from Young Liberal Associations.

During each of those three days Liberals from the Atlantic to the Pacific gathered in committees and in general meetings to assess work completed since the National Liberal convention of last August, and to make plans for a possible general election within the next 12 to 18 months. Optimism was rampant throughout the deliberations and victory was in the air when a rally of nearly 1,000 persons cheered Mr. St. Laurent in his first appearance as Prime Minister of Canada before the party itself.

Daysland Man Is Bible Colporteur

It was announced at the annual meeting of the British & Foreign Bible Society, North Alberta Auxiliary in Edmonton that Mr. Henry H. Larson has been appointed as colporteur in North Alberta. Mr. Larson formerly resided north of Daysland.

In making the announcement, Rev. Emanuel J. Heuer, District Secretary, commends the new colporteur to the people within the auxiliary bounds, from Ponoka and Chauvin north to Peace River and Fort St. John. This is a large area. One man cannot fully cover it. However, in view of the vast amount of work and far greater needs in other parts of the world, it is the policy of the Society to have only one colporteur in each auxiliary in Western Canada.

A colporteur's work consists of selling the Scriptures; Bibles, Testaments or Gospels with the view to placing a copy in every home. In addition he will carry a few other Scriptural supplies and will be prepared to take orders for others. These items are carried for the convenience of those who desire them.

Mr. Larson plans to spend considerable time in the more remote areas at such seasons of the year when road and weather conditions permit. There are people living in areas in which there is little church work done and the Bible Society would like to reach such people.

The District Secretary would especially commend Mr. Larson and his work to the clergy, ministers and pastors. As a colporteur he would wish to work in complete co-operation with the churches and their leaders.

HYLO HIGHLIGHTS

HYLO. — I wish to express my apologies for having been so irregular in reporting in the past two weeks. Of course the worthy readers will understand that various personal problems prevented regular reports, otherwise they would have been made.

I wish to report that my mother is again on the road to recovery. This was one of the most urgent calls that had to be answered and I know that I will be forgiven if I have missed some items of importance.

The people of the Hylo community welcome Carmen Devano, who arrived in Hylo to take up residence with his father, Frank Devano, an old-timer of this community.

The Hard-time Dance, which was sponsored by the Hylo district school board, went over with a bang. The costumes were hilarious and Mrs .Lena Marchesi and Mrs. Myrtle Owchar won the first for the ladies which they split between them. Mr. George Michetti won the first prize for the men.

Again Mrs. Eve Lozinski was the proud winner of the raffle at this dance. This time she packed home a coffee perculator, while from the Valentine Dance she received the beautiful heart-shaped cushion raffled by the Ladies' Society. We are proud that we have in our district such a lucky resident.

The Home and School held their meeting on Feb. 24, at which they riased $10.20 from a sale of cake and coffee. At the meeting it was decided to hold an Amateur Night on March 11. Come one, come all and do your part for prize as well as bring your budding talent to a flower.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rosychuk visited Hylo on Saturday, Feb. 26. Jack and Rose drove up in their new Plymouth car from Perryvale where Jack is working with the oil drillers.

Gabriel Rosychuk was also a visitor in Hylo from Lac la Biche where he is the telegraph operator on nights shifts.

The Hylo Ladies' Society met at Mrs. Katherine Wolanski's home on Sunday, Feb. 27, where a sum of $25.00 was motioned to be donated to the Home and School to be used as seen fit. A lunch was served by the hostess.

The ladies of the Ladies' Society are very sorry that such below zero weather presented them from attending a meeting at Mrs. Sylvia Lozinski's as was planned.

St. Jean-Demers Marriage Celebrated

LEGAL.—Last Tuesday, Miss Rita Demers and Mr. Raoul St. Jean were married. The bride wore a long white sheer gown.

The bridesmaid was her sister, Irene. She wore a pink gown. The best man was the groom's brother Leonard. A dance was held for them that evening at the Morinville hall.
